360° for Life™ Safety Culture Program

Safety Cultures consist of shared beliefs, practices, and attitudes that exist at your company. Culture is the atmosphere created by those beliefs, practices, and attitudes which shape our behavior.

OSHA requires developing a strong Safety Culture program which will have the single greatest impact on incident reduction for your company. It is for this single reason that developing or enhancing your Safety Culture Program should be top priority for all owners, managers and supervisors.

A company with a strong Safety Culture Program typically experiences few at-risk behaviors, consequently they also experience low incident rates, low turn-over, low absenteeism, high productivity, and superior quality work. They are usually companies who are extremely successful by excelling in all aspects of business and excellence.
